DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 17 is objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 17, lines 2 & 4, it is not clear the "difference" of what is being claimed.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.
3. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Regarding claims 16 and 17, the limitation~~s~~ "receiving one or more flow control signals; multiplicatively increasing a current transmission rate; and exponentially decreasing an initial value of the current transmission rate in response to the received one or more flow control signals" is not supported in the specification. More specifically, in figure 3B, block 346; the transmission rate is either decreased or increased, but not increased and decreased as now claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kenneth A. Lauffenburger et al. (U.S. 6,657,961), hereinafter referred to as Lauffenburger.

Regarding claim 16, Lauffenburger disclosed a method comprising receiving one or more flow control signals (See column 4, lines 3-36. Receiving end will send the XON and XOFF signals to the transmitting end to either request the transmitting end to stop, slow down or send traffic to the receiving end); Inherently, when the transmitting end starts to increase its rate, the rate is increased by some multiplication factor.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-15 and 18-33 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record fails to show or fairly suggest the determination of initial rate of data based on the timing difference between the receipt of the start flow control signal and the stop flow control signal as written in claims 1, 10, 18 and 26.

Conclusion
